TYLENOL RECALL

VO:20

A moldy odor has again stricken Johnson & Johnson's Tylenol, and the company is recalling another lot of the over-the-counter painkiller. J&J, which has recalled millions of bottles of Tylenol in the past year because of complaints of a musty or moldy odor in the product, said it was voluntarily recalling another lot. The company, which is facing a U.S. congressional probe of quality control lapses that have led to its numerous recent recalls of Tylenol, painkiller Motrin and allergy treatment Benadryl, did not disclose how many bottles of Tylenol have been recalled in the latest action.

STARBUCKS WILL SELL ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

VO: 20

A newly renovated starbucks "just" opened its doors on seattle's capitol hill. This location on east olive, near summit avenue has been closed since july for major renovations. If it does well, other coffee shops could take after it. Customers will see some big changes to this starbucks - both inside and out. The interior is made with reclaimed materials - and local artists contributed to the decor. There's an expanded menu, featuring wine and beer.

LATINOS "DON'T VOTE" AD

ANA PATRICIA CANDIANI,/ MIAMI, FLORIDA

PKG

new ad urging Hispanic voters to reject both parties by sitting out this year's elections has enraged Hispanic groups, drawn condemnation from the Univision television network and spawned the question of how Hispanics who are upset over the lack of action on immigration should register a protest vote this year. "Don't vote this November," says the ad, sponsored by Latinos for Reform. "This is the only way to send them a clear message: you can no longer take us for granted." The ad is running in Las Vegas, where its chief target is Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid, a Democrat who political analysts say will need a huge turnout by Hispanics if he is to turn back Republican challenger Sharron Angle. Robert De posada, a leader of the group, said Hispanics are angry at Republicans', but also blame Democrats, who on the strength of their party's votes pushed through health care and the stimulus package, but refused to address immigration without the GOP.

HISPANICS LOOK A LITTLE "ASIANS" CONTROVERSY

LOURDES DEL RIO: MIAMI, FLORIDA

PKG 2:13

Nevada U.S. Senate candidate Sharron Angle told dozens of Hispanic high school students last week that "some of you look a little more Asian to me," inducing gasps from the crowd and marking the latest eyebrow-raising remark she has uttered on the campaign trail. Angle, a Republican in a close contest against Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid, met Friday with the group at a Las Vegas high school after students expressed anger with her campaign's-illegal immigrant message. In a video of the private meeting obtained by The Associated Press, Angle defends a series of campaign advertisements that lean on images of dark-skinned men. Angle, who is white and has Mexican grandsons, claims she did not know the people in the TV spots were Hispanic and makes the case that it can be difficult to pinpoint someone's race. She will tyalk about the controversy will get reactions from both candidates, students that were there there also a political analyst.

PENTAGON ACCEPTING GAYS

VO: 21

The military is accepting openly gay recruits for the first time in the nation's history, even as it tries in the courts to slow the movement to abolish its "don't ask, don't tell" policy. At least two service members discharged for being gay began the process to re-enlist after the Pentagon's Tuesday announcement. A federal judge in California who overturned the 17-year policy last week rejected the government's latest effort on Tuesday to halt her order telling the military to stop enforcing the law. Government lawyers will likely appeal. With the recruiting announcement, the barriers built by an institution long resistant and sometimes hostile to gays had come down.

GAYS IN THE MILITARY

LUIS MEGID/ SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

PKG 1:45

U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton is offering support to gay teenagers who are suffering from bullying, advising them to "hang in there" and "ask for help." In a videotaped message posted on YouTube, Clinton says she was saddened by recent suicides by young people who were bullied for being gay, or because people thought they were gay. She calls the deaths a reminder that the nation needs "to work harder to overcome bigotry and hatred." Clinton says she is "grateful every day" for the work of lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender employees at the State Department. She points out that those people overcame discrimination, and promises victims of bullying that things "will get better."

CHILDREN OF UNDOCUMENTED

VÍCTOR HUGO RODRIGUEZ/ PHOENIX, ARIZONA

PKG 2:16

Lawmakers in at least 14 states announced Tuesday they are working on legislation to deny U.S. citizenship to the children of illegal immigrants, although they weren't specific about how they plan to do it. Arizona Sen. Russell Pearce said he and the lawmakers have a working draft of their model legislation and have consulted constitutional scholars to change the 14th Amendment and deny automatic citizenship. "This is a battle of epic proportions," Pearce said Tuesday during a news conference at the Arizona Capitol. "We've allowed the hijacking of the 14th Amendment." Pearce declined to say how the legislation will differ from similar measures that have been introduced in each two-year congressional session since 2005. None of them made it out of committee. He and another Arizona lawmaker did argue that wording in the amendment that guarantees citizenship to people born in the U.S. who are "subject to the jurisdiction" of this country does not apply to the children of illegal immigrants because such families don't owe sole VICTOR: CHILDREN CITIZENSHIP allegiance to the U.S.

NEW NCLR REPORT

LUIS MEGID/ SAN FRANCISCO CALIFORNIA

PKG 1:50

This study shows that Latino youth in the U.S. experience pervasive stereotyping based on assumptions about their ethnicity. This report looks at the perceptions and experiences of Latino teenagers in settings as varied as school, the workplace, the streets, and in their interactions with law enforcement. The study also points to protective factors such as resiliency and parental support. The authors analyzed focus groups of children of Hispanic immigrants in four cities across the nation: Langley Park, MD; Nashville, TN; Los Angeles, LA; Providence, Rhode Island.

TOYOTA RECALL

VO: 17

Toyota Motor Corp. says it is recalling 1.53 million Lexus, Avalon and other models, mostly in the U.S. and Japan, for brake fluid and fuel pump problems. Toyota said it will recall about 740,000 cars in the U.S. and 599,000 in Japan. The world's biggest automaker has recalled more than 10 million cars and trucks worldwide over the last year for a variety of problems, including sticky gas pedals.

DISEASE CONTROL PREVENTION REPORT

LLOURDES DEL RIO- MIAMI, FLORIDA

PKG 1:50

As many as 1 in 3 U.S. adults could have diabetes by the year 2050, federal officials announced Friday, in a dramatic revision of earlier projections. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimate that 1 in 10 have diabetes now, but the number could grow to 1 in 5 or even 1 in 3 by mid-century if current trends continue. "This is alarming," said Ann Albright, director of the CDC's Division of Diabetes Translation. The agency's projections have been a work in progress. The last revision put the number at 39 million in 2050. The new estimate takes it to the range of 76 million to 100 million.

NEW SECURITY SCANNERS AT JFK
BLANCA ROSA VILCHEZ- NEW YORK
PKG 1:50

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Secretary Janet Napolitano will travel to New York City on Friday, Oct. 22., to tour Transportation Security Administration (TSA) operations and participate in a media availability highlighting the deployment of the first Advanced Imaging Technology (AIT) unit at John F. Kennedy International Airport. Secretary Napolitano will be joined by Port Authority of New York and New Jersey Deputy Executive Director Bill Baroni and TSA Office of Security Operations Assistant Administrator Lee Kair to brief media on the cutting-edge screening technology and DHS's ongoing efforts to secure airports throughout the country. Following the availability, members of the media are invited to observe a demonstration of the new AIT unit and observe the steps TSA has taken to protect passenger privacy.

HONDA RECALL
VO:20

Honda said Friday nearly a half-million sedans and minivans in the United States were involved in this week's recall to fix brake fluid leaks. The action, announced earlier, involved the same issue that led Toyota to recall 1.5 million vehicles. Honda said the recall affects 471,820 2005-2007 model year Acura RL sedans and Honda Odyssey minivans from the 2005 to early 2007 model year. The company said there have been no injuries or accidents tied to the problem. The Japanese automaker told the government that certain types of brake fluid could affect the seal on the brake's master cylinder and lead to a leak. If the leaks are left unattended, they could cause a spongy feeling in the brake pedal and adversely affect brake performance. Honda said owners will be notified within the next two months and vehicles will be repaired free.

NATURALIZATION CERTIFICATE
LUIS MEGID- SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

PKG 2:00

Immigration officials, in an effort to deter fraud, will unveil today a new naturalization certificate for people who become U.S. citizens. The new certificates, used to obtain passports and other legal documents, come after U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) unveiled a new green card - the ID card for immigrants with permanent residency status - this year that had improved security features to prevent forgery and tampering. "They are going to be very significant" technical changes, says USCIS Director Alejandro Mayorkas, who is scheduled to present the new certificates at a naturalization ceremony in Baltimore. Mayorkas said his office doesn't track incidents of fraud for immigration documents, but the officials felt the improvements were necessary because the green cards hadn't been updated since 1998 and the last update of the naturalization certificates, in 2003, didn't add any security features. The old certificates were filled in manually and the person's photograph was just attached to it. The new computerized certificates will have all that information embedded in the document and also will have ink patterns that are harder to duplicate. The new green cards have more security features, including a personalized holographic image, a laser-engraved fingerprint of the person and improved identification technology.

ELECTIONS LATEST

LOURDES MELUZA- WASHINGTON, DC

PKG 2:03

Only 51 percent of Latino registered voters across the nation said they're planning on going to the polls -- that's compared to 70 percent of registered voters. But a recent Pew Hispanic Center poll suggests that while voter motivation across the nation might be weak, Latinos in Arizona are gearing up for Nov. 2 election. Mi Familia Vota says they've registered nearly 20,000 new voters. When Governor Brewer signed the tough immigration bill into law, members of the Hispanic community converged on the State Capitol to show their opposition. But will those strong feelings translate into a real impact at the polls? Hispanic community organizers say yes.

ANTI-BULLYING RULES

VO:30

The Department of Education is sending a warning to schools, colleges and universities nationwide in response to several high-profile cases of bullying. In letters going out today, the agency tells schools they could be violating federal anti-discrimination laws if they tolerate or fail to adequately address ethnic, sexual or gender-based harassment. Among some of the recent high-profile cases are the suicides of an 18-year-old Rutgers University student and a 15-year-old Massachusetts girl.

IS THE ECONOMY STUPID?
LUIS MEGID / SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA
PKG 2:27

The last read on the economy before the midterm elections found Americans are spending a little more but not nearly enough to bring down high unemployment - one final bit of bad news for Democrats. The economy expanded at a 2 percent pace from July to September, the Commerce Department . It marked a slight improvement from the scant 1.7 percent growth rate in the previous quarter. But to keep up with population growth and actually bring down unemployment, the economy must grow much faster. Economists figure it takes growth at a rate of about 5 percent for a full year to lower the jobless rate by a percentage point. Democrats risk losing control of the House and perhaps the Senate on Tuesday at a time when nearly 15 million Americans are out of work and the jobless rate is 9.6 percent.

SEATS AT STAKE CONGRESS

LOURDES MELUZA/ WASHINGTON, DC

PKG 2:16

In the run-up to November, everybody is wondering whether Republicans can retake the House of Representatives this year. They should really be wondering whether the GOP can take back the Indiana House of Representatives and the New York state Senate. U.S. House races will determine who controls Congress until 2012, but state-level races for legislature and governor this fall could determine who controls Congress through 2022. Next year, states will redraw their legislative and congressional district lines based on the results of the U.S. census. And in most states, the party in power gets to draw the map to its own advantage. The last time this happened, in the 2000 election, Republicans fared poorly. After George W. Bush lost the national popular vote for president, the party was left with complete control of the redistricting process in states that accounted for only 98 House seats. Democrats had total control over creating 120 new districts. Of the remaining 217 districts, seven are in states with just one House seat; 173 were drawn under split-party power; and 37 were drawn by nonpartisan commissions under state law

WHITMAN HOUSEKEEPER

JAIME GARCIA/ LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

PKG 2:01

Reporting from Salinas, Stockton and Sacramento - Republican gubernatorial nominee Meg Whitman has reignited a controversy that roiled her campaign for weeks, saying the undocumented housekeeper she employed for nine years should be deported. The comment, her toughest yet on the matter, came in an interview with Fox News Greta Van Susteren, who asked Whitman on Wednesday whether the former housekeeper, Nicandra Diaz Santillan, should be deported. "Well, the answer is: It breaks my heart, but she should be deported, because she forged documents and she lied about her immigration status," Whitman said. She reiterated her argument that Diaz Santillan was used as a pawn in a political stunt but added: "The law is the law, and we live in the rule of law. It's important." Whitman and her campaign aides had fought hard to turn the page on the scandal when it erupted in September. The candidate has said that both she and a hiring agency relied on documents that turned out to be false, and she fired Diaz Santillan when the housekeeper disclosed her immigration status last year. On Thursday, Whitman tried to step back from her remarks, saying they didn't represent a change in position.

MEEK OUT OF THE RACE?

LOURDES DEL RIO / MIAMI, FLORIDA

PKG 2:09

All eyes are on the drama unfolding in Florida after Politico's Ben Smith broke the news last night that former President Bill Clinton had encouraged Democratic Senate candidate Kendrick Meek, whose poll numbers are languishing, to drop out of the three-way race with Republican Marco Rubio and independent Charlie Crist. According to Smith's report: "Meek agreed - - twice -- to drop out and endorse Gov. Charlie Crist's independent bid in a last-ditch effort to stop Marco Rubio, the Republican nominee who stands on the cusp of national stardom." But wait right there. Since the story dropped, both Meek and President Clinton have denied it -- at least in part.
